Good Goods at Low Prices.

TO THE LADIES:

We may be a little ahead of the season in calling your attention to our fine line of fall and winter underwear. Vests, all sizes, fine Jersey ribbed, Egyptian color, lace trimmed neck, pearl buttons, heavy fleeced line, but we have such excellent values in that line that we think it a good thing to look them over even though you don't expect to buy until later on. You have everything to gain and nothing to lose by inspecting them before buying elsewhere. We will warrant one of these suits to be as warm as two of the ordinary fleeced lined garments. Some people found them such good values that they already bought their future stock. Ask to see them. They will be sold at the low price of 25c per garment.

Don't forget that we can supply you with everything in the line of Crockery, Graniteware, Table Cutlery, Etc., at lowest prices.

School begins next Monday. Let every parent see that the boys and girls are in school at the beginning of the term. Give them a good start and they will do well all the year. Most of the children that dislike school were kept out at some time and fell behind their classmates, while those that delight in going to school have attended regularly.

Pupils entering Miss Roy's room for the first time must do so the first week in September or the first week in April, for classes cannot be formed at all times of the year.

The Yale schools are in excellent condition. They are thoroughly graded and are designed to lay a good foundation for future scholarship and give the student a good practical education. Young men and women in the vicinity of Yale who desire to round out their district school work or continue their studies will find exceptional advantages in the Yale schools.

Last night the board added the twelfth grade to our school, and adopted the following course of study:

FALL.	WINTER.	SPRING.
U. S. History	Physiology	Physiology
Arithmetic	Book-Keeping	Classics
Grammar	Grammar	Composition
Civil Government	Civil Gov't	Botany
	Botany
TENTH GRADE.
The same subjects in the Winter and Spring as in the Fall
Algebra

Geometry	Geometry and Algebra	the Winter
U. S. History (Advanced)	U. S. History	term.

This course with proper equipment will admit students to the State Normal.

NOTES.
The High School Assistant, Miss Mabelle Skentlebury, of Lake Odessa, is a graduate of the Michigan State Normal. She has a life certificate and comes to us very highly recommended. The Expositor joins with our citizens in wishing her the best of success.

Pomona Grange Picnic.

An ideal day for a picnic was Wednesday, fair and pleasant. The weather man seemed to have had this day in store for the Granges of St. Clair County.

Before noon a large number of people from different points had gathered in the beautiful grove belonging to Jas. Massie, five miles north-east of Capac, and the proceedings of the day were opened by music from the Capac band, which, by the way, is a good band. Afterwards an opening address which should have been made by Daniel Foley, was of necessity omitted, on account of his absence, and the Lynn Grange choir sang a pleasing selection with organ accompaniment. After more music by the band the company scattered in groups to spread dinner. Tablecloths were laid on the grassy sward and it was not long before the eatables were fast disappearing before the hungry people. After dinner, order was called by Mr. Massie, who gave the program for the afternoon. John Sheehy spoke on the subject "Why am I a Granger," and he handled his topic well, speaking in a distinct voice which reached every part of the crowd. Several were absent who were on the program, and Judge Tappan was called on next. Mr. Tappan is always a pleasing speaker and his remarks on this occasion were interesting and appropriate, although he had not known that he should be called upon. The next speaker was Hon. E. P. Cole, past lecturer of the New York State Grange. He held the people's attention with the growth, advancement and advantages of the grange, and the beneficent influences coming from membership in the order, interspersing his speech with incidents and anecdotes relative thereto. A paper was then read by Estella Hill and a recitation by E. A. Brough, completed a good program which everyone enjoyed.

It was the privilege of the Expositor man to be present on this day and we must say that we came away with many new ideas in regard to this organization of the farmers' and we are certainly convinced that it is a grand, good thing.

Nearly Lost His Life.

A regrettable accident occurred on the P. M. railroad near Avoca on Sunday, whereby Harry Jardine came near losing his life. As it was, he will be laid up for a while. Harry had made up his mind to visit Yale friends and started out from Avoca on a railroad velocipede. He had gone not more than a mile when he was crashed into by an extra freight train, which for some reason he had not perceived or heard in time to get off the track. Harry was thrown and at first it was thought he must be killed, but miraculously he escaped with three fractured ribs and a badly cut up head. He was taken up and brought to the home of his brother in Yale and medical attention given him. He will recover, but the sad occasion will probably always remain in his memory as a horrid dream. Harry says that no whistle was blown by the trainmen on the freight and he had no warning of its approach. Different stories are of course about as to the accident, but it is impossible to sift the truth from any so we let them all go by until the exact one comes to light.

School Board Meet.

Yale, Mich., Aug. 28, 1902.
Special meeting called to order by Moderator Menerey.
Trustees present—Currier and Wallace.
Moved and supported that we adopt the 12th grade in our school as outlined by Prof. Robinson.—Carried.
Moved by Wallace, supported by Martin that we adopt Scott & Denney's Rhetoric in place of Hill's now in use.—Carried.

H. C. Martin, Director.

A NECESSARY PRECAUTION.
Don't neglect a cold. It is worse than unpleasant. It is dangerous. By using One Minute Cough Cure you can cure it at once. Allays inflammation, clears the head, soothes and strengthens the mucous membrane. Cures coughs, croup, throat and lung troubles. Absolutely safe. Acts immediately. Children like it. Grant Holden.

We are now showing the first arrivals in new fall suits, dress and walking skirt, capes, jackets, etc., and we want you to come and see the new fabrics, shades and styles. It will pay you to make a special trip for this purpose only.
